INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY DEPARTMENT

Information Technology is a type of technology that offers solutions to organizational and commercial issues. To handle and utilize information/data, this technical field uses computers, networks, storage, and other technological infrastructure.

Information Technology has evolved into the most basic requirement for the smooth functioning of human society. Information Technology has ingrained itself into every aspect of our life, from managing banking to receiving meals from a restaurant delivered to our homes.

BLOOD DONATION CAMP

A Blood donation camp was organized by our NSS unit. Through which both students and the staff members of our Bhivrabai Sawant Polytechnic, and the Computer Department took active participation. It is a way of Bhivrabai Sawant Polytechnic in bringing a ray of hope to contribute to the serious problems of acute shortage of blood. India faces a blood shortage of 3 million units. The problem can be addressed if an additional two percent of Indians donate blood, as said by the Health experts. Our College has been religiously organizing blood donation camps every year and students and the faculty members come forward voluntarily to donate blood.
